CHNA and Improvement Planning Process

Community Health Needs Assessment

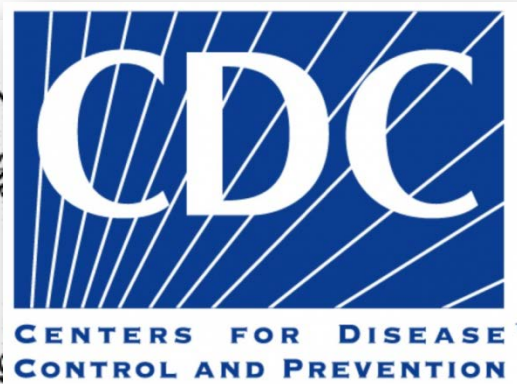

- A structured process, usually conducted in collaboration with other community groups and organizations for determining the health status and needs of community members and identifying community health improvement programs and services on which to focus.

Improvement Plan

- A long-term, systematic effort to address public health problems in a community. The plan is based on the results of the Community Health Needs Assessment activities, and is part of a community health improvement process.
- Developed through a collaborative process, and defines a vision for the health of the community.
