Who is Gen Z?

What is The Perfect Storm?

Workplace Attitudes

- What age did you get your first job?
- If Gen Y can dream it, then can achieve it!
- Gen X, Y want to be defined by use of technology
- Entitlement vs. Paying dues
- Loyalty...different meaning to all generations

Workplace Hours and Flexibility

- What is the face time game?
- Gen X seeks balance of home/work
- Gen Y sees work/life balance as necessity
- Tension between Boomers and Gen X, Y

Workplace Hours and Flexibility

- Boomers love to shower new EE's with advice
- Gen Y refuses to be judged on hours worked
- Gen Y trying to work “life” into their lives now
- Younger generations want control over time
- Boomers: Don't dictate-instead negotiate
- Younger generations define success differently

The Impact of Delayed Retirement

- Traditionalists going back to work
- Baby Boomers just will not retire
- Gen X getting nervous
- Gen Y wants to be happy

Growth/Development/Achievement

- Boomers are their work!
- Gen X seeks security/boss who will trust them
- Gen Y is the brightest generation to date
- Leaders need to invest in employees future

Communication

- All generations want to be respected/heard
- Gen Y wants change, but...
- Explanation versus action
- Free time down 37% from Gen X to Gen Y
- Gen Y likes transparency and casual workplace
- Gen X dislike meetings
- Gen Y loves brainstorming
- Hierarchy versus network
- How do generations look at recognition?
